Campus Speaks Out

Bryant Adjusts To New Situation

By Craig Carpenter
Of The Archway Staff

"It should have stayed at eighteen. If we are mature enough to vote and register for the draft, then we should be able to drink." A Bryant Student.

When the state of Rhode Island raised the legal drinking age, colleges and universities throughout the state were compelled to comply with the new laws. This meant each institution had to adopt new policies to meet the new requirements and to adopt ones which would fit the needs of the respective campuses.

Bryant adopted policies, as recommended by the Alcohol Policies Committee, which the school felt were workable ones. "I am very pleased thus far with what has taken place," said Mr. Leslie LaFond, "and the responsible attitude the school was seeking to establish is taking place on campus. This affirms that these policies are workable."

Koffler Student Center

"The one trouble spot," said Mr. LaFond, "will be the pub." The physical design of the pub is causing the problem and Mr. LaFond is going to ask the Alcohol Policies

Committee to survey the situation in hopes of correcting the problem.

The student body is in complete agreement with Mr. LaFond concerning this issue. As one student said, "I saw four people downstairs and it was jammed upstairs." Another student said, "Last year I wouldn't hesitate to go to the pub at night, but this year it is either dead or it is crowded, especially upstairs." "I think twice about going to the pub," said a student, as another added, "the pub should be for students over nineteen only."

Country Comfort

Bryant's other night spot is the Country Comfort. The consensus among students is that things are going smoothly at this facility, with no major complaints.

The only complaints Brycol has received so far, according to Candy LaBombard, Brycol's Executive Director, concerns the limited access to the upper level, as well as the beer available upstairs. Students have to wait in line to get upstairs, and those who come down to go to the rest rooms have not liked having to wait to get back up. "There are only two types of beer being sold upstairs," said Candy, "but the students are complaining more about no bottled beer being sold upstairs."

Candy also said the entrance to the Comfort, as well as to the upstairs, is being controlled. No one without an identification card will be allowed to enter. Students who are not old enough to drink are reminded that they can go to the Comfort on Sunday and Tuesday nights. Candy also said, when entertainment at the Comfort resumes, it will be on Tuesday nights.

Dorm Parties

The party regulations for the dormitories seem to be working, and most students do not object to signing in and showing some identification. As long as the proper procedures continue to be followed, parties should run smoothly.

Several different students expressed the opinion that the atmosphere on campus has changed from last year and hopefully students will adjust to the new situation. Mr. LaFond said that the school is doing its best to meet the needs of all those involved. He said the school is flexible as far as making necessary changes to alleviate any problems, as long as the changes continue to comply with state law.

'Big MAC' Is Ahead of Schedule

Construction on the Multipurpose Activities Center has progressed significantly over the summer, and, at this time, construction is ahead of schedule. The addition to the gym is scheduled for completion at the beginning of next semester.

MAC will house, in addition to a new gymnasium and social center, five racquetball courts, new office space for The Archway, The Ledger, WJMF, and other student offices, as well as a small group meeting room. These new offices will be considerably larger than their respective current Unistructure spaces.

In a recent tour of the building, it was found that the building is nearly fully enclosed and the walls have been roughed in. Finish work has started on the racquetball courts, and one section of wall is still missing from the new gymnasium to allow the entrance of heavy equipment into that area.

The new gymnasium area will also allow for social events, such as concerts and mixers. There will be complete facilities for ticket-selling and concessions. There will be no fixed seating in the new gym, as there is in the original, so most spectator sporting events will be held in the older gym building.

Intramurals and varsity sports practices will use both facilities.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

In the How-Disgusted-Can-You-Get Department comes this apt quote on the new drinking age by a Bryant student,

"It's as much fun as a 16 oz. enema."

Student Asssistants Provide Education Beyond Classroom

Who are the Student Assistants? The Student Assistants have an interest in their development and the development of the college campus. They are well-trained in communications and leadership skills. The Student Assistant acts as a general information and referral source to their peers. They conduct small group discussions and coordinate seminars and workshops related to school interests and concerns throughout the academic year.

The Student Assistants are divided into two teams: Specialized Skills and Learning Skills. The Specialized Skills group presents workshops dealing with drug abuse, alcohol awareness, sexuality and management labs. The Learning Skills group offers workshops in time management, improving study habits, relaxation training, and other academic areas. There is a combined effort of all Student Assistants in the operation of the Resource Center. This center contains books, pamphlets, and other sources of information in all the workshop areas. The center also has available an academic tape library consisting of specific study skills techniques and an informational directory called "Everything Under the Sun."

Their goal is to provide education beyond the classroom, to provide help in troublesome areas, and to be a friend to whomever can come in and talk. They are located in the Center for Student Development on the second floor of the Unistructure. They encourage you to come and use their services.

Alumni Office Is More Than Reunions

by Mary Morgado
of the Archway Staff

The Alumni Relations Office, headed by acting director Chris Hayes, is not just for organizing reunions. The office offers much more to students, administration, and the 19,000 alumni of Bryant.

The idea of Alumni Relations is a service. Says Mrs. Hayes, "Alumni relations helps students keep in touch. It heightens alumni awareness."

The many programs offered by the Alumni Office include: Regional Clubs, social functions, the Bryant Review, a magazine, travel programs, Senior survival, and of course, reunions.

Regional clubs form wherever there is a concentration of Alumni. These clubs are meeting places, referral agencies for future students, and a source of information. Clubs have formed in Boston, Hartford, New Haven, Washington, D.C., Florida and New York.

The Alumni Office and the Alumni Association, (a non-profit organization of all alumni) also sponsor travel programs. These programs offer trips to alumni at discount rates.

Also, there is a Young Alumni Day where alumni from 1970-1980 spend a day together. This year at a pre-season Patriots game.

Reunions are held every June for all alumni. This is a weekend which brings alumni back to Bryant and up-to-date on what is happening here. The latest Alumni Festival featured a Student-Produced Audio Visual Show which presented scenes of what Bryant is today.

The biggest alumni-student program offered is Senior Survival. Mrs. Hayes stated, "Senior Survival gives seniors an idea of what it is like after Bryant." Mrs. Hayes and the Alumni Association organize the program. Speakers are mainly alumni and have spoken on such topics as: "Hiring Your Next Boss: A Few Things You Should Know," "Establishing Credit: How do You Rate?" and "Living on Your Own: The Search for an Apartment."

Each year the Alumni Office offers a wide variety of growing programs. Mrs. Hayes relies on suggestions for new programs and feedback on old programs. She stresses the need for Alumni to keep ties not only with Bryant, but with each other. Bryant Alumni are a rich and deep source of information and contacts. The Alumni Office keeps these Alumni available to each other and to students.

From The Editor's Desk...

"The atmosphere just is not the same. It is really different."

Campus life at Bryant is really different this year and we all know why. The alcohol policies adopted by the school have changed things around campus and it will take time for the students to adjust to the new regulations.

Thus far, students have had to wait in line outside the pub in order to get in, which really is not that abnormal, but they have also had to wait in line inside the pub in order to get to the upper level where the drinks are being served. These lines and the crowds on the upper level are caused by the regulations governing the pub, but a big contributing factor, also is the physical design of the building itself. The college has already acknowledged this fact and is going to survey the situation and make any necessary changes. The mixers this weekend will be the big test of the policies concerning the pub and each night should prove to be an interesting experience.

As for the Comfort, well, Brycol made the changes which they felt were necessary in order to comply with the new policies. So far, it looks as if they made the right changes. In order for the Comfort to continue to serve the entire student population, they had to change their format and this includes the selling of beer upstairs. So, for now, students are just going to have to be a little patient and put up with any line they might be waiting in at the Comfort.

If the current trend keeps up, the image of parties and happy hours on this campus is really going to be lost. No longer are freshman students and independents going to Greek Happy Hours, to drink beer, wine and punches, as well as to meet the brothers and sisters. They are now attending "Coketail" parties and "Social Gatherings" to try some of the Greeks' new "liquid refreshments", as well as to meet the brothers and sisters.

Of course, these cliches are just phrases the Greeks are using to announce when their Happy Hours are and still to be in compliance with the new regulations. The new regulations state that no advertisements can be used which promote alcohol. The Greeks also are having to absorb much of the cost of these get-togethers, because they can no longer make any charges to anyone who attends these functions. Despite all this, "a good time will still be had by all."

Despite any inconveniences these, or any of the other alcohol policies might cause, students need to be understanding of the situation. As one student said, "The college has adopted fair policies for an awkward situation." It is up to you as an individual to make the best of the situation and have some patience until the school can fairly evaluate all the new policies. Then they will make those changes which they feel are necessary to meet the needs of all those involved—drinkers and non-drinkers.

Well, once again, commuters like myself must set out to blaze the uncivilized frontiers of Smithfield. Yet, some are unable to fully understand the word "commuter." To clear up any present doubts, a Bryant College commuter is...

...someone who can travel ten miles of Route 295 in five minutes or less, depending on headwind.

...someone whose "2-3:15 T Th" class ruins all possible carpools anywhere from within a mile of the campus to anywhere east of the New York/Pennsylvania border.

...someone who either was just granted the sacred family auto and is greeted with the $800 insurance bill, or someone who slaved through the past summer mixing some ruddy swill in the basement of the neighborhood taco joint for sub-minimum wage, which barely paid off that '67 Bonneville that has an estimated gas mileage rating measured in "Feet per tankful."

...someone who should join the Cross Country team when they pull onto campus at 9:55 and make their 10:00 class on time after parking in one of the spaces located in the very back row, next to the visitor's football goal line.

...someone who stubbornly refuses to pay $7.50 per day to live in a dorm, yet prefers to spend $5.00 per day on gas and remain at home and put up with *e&*c* & yardwork and listen to little sisters who complain to you because they can't do long division and expect you to show them how to use your TI-30. (Is this really worth $2.50 a day??)

...someone who knows that a mannequin could be positioned in the gate Security Booth with its fingers positioned in awkward directions so as to signal traffic to pass by without any loss of security effectiveness.

...someone who is not depressed that they can no longer be thrilled by the harmonious voice of Charlie Jeffereds on WJAR, but must bear with the sub-human growls and screeches of Salty Brine on PRO-AM.

...someone who has been granted the divine luxury of being able to frequent nearby Lincoln Mall and, specifically, the McDonald's instead of being tied to the ball and chain of SAGA meals.

...someone who, when preregistering, finds that all the sections for their classes are closed except for 8:00, 11:00 and 2:00, and must therefore "study" the library (study the walls, the floor, their chair, etc...) between classes when Joe Resident goes 8-11 and bums around for the rest of the day.

...someone who sleeps.

...someone who does not sleep because he has to wake up at 6 a.m. to barely make the 8:00 class, and does not get home until 3:00 a.m. after that night's mixer, or does not get home (when this is done frequently, the commuter is known as a "resident-commuter," which will be defined in a later issue.)

...someone who did not have to pay $1.25 for one-subject notebooks that couldn't have the words "Bryant College" printed on them any bigger.

...someone who although familiar with The New Paper personal advertisements, still questions the intelligence of the people who submit personals to The Archway.

Or someone who is just trying to collect the whole series of driving tickets because they look nicer in frames than Dean's List certificates.

Although commuters are greatly outnumbered by residents, they too have their problems. This weekly column will try to point out the lighter side of commuting (if there is one) and comment on commuters and their problems, while maintaining the interests of the non-commuting reader. Until next week,

HAPPY MOTORING

NewsBriefs

By Craig Carpenter
Of The Archway Staff

John Anderson, who last week was not planning on being included in the upcoming Presidential debate, this week received an invitation from the League of Women Voters to participate in the September 21 debate. The news of his acceptance was not as shocking as was the news that President Carter declined his invitation to participate. Mr. Carter, who called John Anderson's candidacy as "primarily a creation of the press," said he would debate any and all Presidential candidates only after he meets Mr. Reagan in a one-one-one debate.

Ronald Reagan this week in Chicago, outlined his long-term economic plan which he says will "balance the budget, reduce tax rates, and restore our national defenses." Mr. Reagan said that the "American Tragedy" produced by Mr. Carter's "economic mess" could not be ended easily or immediately. Mr. Reagan once again started his drive for a thirty percent reduction in Federal Income Taxes over the next three years. (NYT)

Great Britain, on the verge of breaking diplomatic relations with Iran, this week closed its embassy in Teheran. The last four British diplomats were withdrawn because the fear of them being taken hostage was too great. At the same time, Great Britain began deporting Iranian students arrested during last month's demonstrations.

Canada's government leaders, today are entering the final day of a weeklong convention. The convention is being held so the the leaders can debate the possibility of the nation adopting a constitutional bill of rights. Pierre Trudeau, Canada's Prime Minister, feels that Canadians need the rights as granted by a constitution. The ten provincial premiers however, feel the rights in a constitution would undermine their parliamentary government.

Foosball clinics are also conducted, which teach the play and rules of the game. The officers would like to welcome back the players from last year, and new players of all skill levels, especially beginners. The first club meeting will be Tuesday, Sept. 16, at 3:30 in room 260. If you are not able to attend, call 232-0195, or ask for information in the gameroom. Everyone is welcome.

CIA

Sigma Iota Xi

The Sisters of Sigma Iota Xi would like to welcome everyone back to Bryant. We hope you all had a great summer and are psyched for the upcoming school year.

The Sigmas would all like to thank their sister, Linda Babitz for having us down to Glen Rock, NJ for our annual sisters picnic in July. It was wild (as usual) and a great time was had by all.

Last Friday afternoon, we had our first Social Hour. There was a good turnout and we would like to thank all the Freshmen and independents who came for making it such a smashing success.

Disc Jockey of the Week

WILL LALLY

He is graduate student here at Bryant College. On his Wednesday 8 a.m. - 11 a.m. show he plays acid and punk rock (in the order).

A rather interesting character he likes being a DJ because "I like being a celebrity, and I love Bryant College." In fact, anyone who wants his autograph can show up at the station during his show.

What does Will Lally think of WJMF? "If we had support from the alumni and upper-echelon administration, we'd be 1000 watts and make WBRU, WCOZ, WBCN, and WAAF look like s--t, pardon my Latin.

The Brothers would also like to acknowledge the fine addition of two new advisors. Our advisors are: Ray King, Jack Currier, Joe Smith and Richard Elmendorf.

The Brothers are looking forward to a great year and extend the same to everyone else.

As we all know, this week is Greek Week, and the Sigmas are looking forward to meeting all the new Freshmen Wednesday night at Wine and Cheese and also, at the mixer Saturday night. We'd also like to remind everyone that the Sisters are holding their "End of Summer Party" this coming Friday in Townhouse C-4 from 7-9. All Freshmen and independents are welcome to come down and party it up with the Sisters.

The picnic that is to be held behind the Pub will bring Greek Week to a close.

Women's Tennis Team Rebuilding in '80

By David Cooley Of The Archway Staff

Harriers Stride Into Fall Season

The 1980 Bryant College Men's Cross Country Team is looking forward to the best fall season in the fourteen-year history of this sport at the school. The team will be led by senior tri-captains Phil Goss of East Hartford, Ct. Jack O'Connor of Middletown, R.I., and Bill Varney of Norton, Ma.

Depth should be the key to success for the 1980 squad as seniors Craig Anderson of Gloucester, MA, Bill Easty of Muncie, NJ, and Mike Kearney of Baltimore, MD, will be joined by sophomores Jim Forker of New Canaan, CT, Scott Pierson of Warwick, RI, and Dave Timbrell of Manchester, CT.

place finish in the 1979 ICAAAA College Division race. Highlighting the schedule this year is the first Northeast Seven Conference meet at Worcester, MA and the Northeast Region NCAA Division II meet at Indiana, PA.

Leading Candidates for the top seven varsity positions are Phil Goss, school record holder in the 800; Bill Varney, a varsity team member for the past three years who has recently overcome persistent leg injury problems; Jim Forker and Scott Pierson, varsity members as freshmen and greatly improved as sophomores and freshman Dean Anderson, 18th in the Connecticut Open High School race.

The women's tennis team of Bryant College is coming off their most successful season ever at 8 and 2; however four of Peter Barlow's top six players from 1979 have graduated. As the 1980 season arrives, head coach Barlow is depending on his less experienced squad to achieve another fine season.

The team has no seniors and only one freshman. They dropped their first match of the year to Worcester Polytech on Wednesday by a close score of 4-3. Netting wins for Bryant were Lisa Daly and Cindy Borelli in singles play and the doubles team of Lauri McCurry and Eileen Fay. Rounding out the starting team are Anne Marie Savelle, Shelly Tahan, Ann Westdyke, Sue Ranenberg and Sue Eaton. Others include Sandy Alemian, Amy Levinson, and freshman Sue Engels.

Mr Barlow feels the team has a challenging year ahead and hopes it can rise and meet that challenge. Barring anything extraordinary, the whole team will be back and looking for a great 1981 season.

Major League Baseball Season Enters It's Last Month

By Pete Baughman
Of The Archway Staff

The Atlanta Brave's front office was told to begin making preparations for a possible playoff series by Bowie Kuhn last week. The Braves at one point had won 21 of 25 and had improved their record to 71-65 with a win over Pittsburgh last Sunday. It would be the first post season play for Brave's fans since 1969. When the Red's beat Pittsburgh on Sunday the 31st they were atop the N.L. West. Since then Los Angeles has been playing pennant winning baseball and are now 2 games atop Houston.

Nobody wants to win in the East. the Mets found themselves 4 1/2 out of last. Montreal, Philadelphia, and Pittsburgh have all ranged from first to third. Mike Schmidt, who now leads in homers (37) and RBI's (103) will lead Philadelphia to the pennant along with 20 game winner Steve Carlton.

The Yankees looked like runaways in July with an 8 1/2 game lead over Milwaukee and 11 over Baltimore. The Orioles went on to take six of eight from the Yankees and eventually climbed to within a half game of the top. Steve Stone has the major's best record at 22-6 along with consistent pitching from McGregor, Palmer and Flanagan.

Things look good in New York since Howser moved Ron Guidry (13-8) to the bullpen. Reggie Jackson looked like the MVP in July as he led the Yankees to a big lead. Jackson leads in homers with 35 but Gorman Thomas (33) and Ben Oglive (32) of the Brewers are right behind. Without strong starting pitching the Brewers have been a disappointment in 1980. The Red Sox had moved to 6 1/2 out by the end of August. They did it without deep pitching and awesome hitting. Lynn is out for the year and Rice has had a poor season (.275, 19, 60). Tony Perez has been the big bright spot for the Sox. His first A.L. season has been a productive one (.270, 21, 92), and he has been a valuable leader on the club. Cleveland has the A.L. rookie of the year in Joe Charbanou (20 homers) and an improved pitching staff led by Len Barker (18-8). The Indians were at 70-66 and 15 1/2 games out of first on Tuesday.

The big news in the A.L. west is not the Royals even though George Brett is flirting with a .400 average. The Royals have made a joke of the division this year and were 17 1/2 out in front of Texas on Wednesday, the only other team over .500. Ferguson Jenkins was suspended by Bowie on Monday for "failing to answer questions concerning his drug arrest during an investigation by the commissioners' office." Jenkins is the first major-league player Kuhn has taken such drastic action against since he suspended pitcher Denny McLain in 1970 for carrying a gun and breaking a previous probation imposed by Kuhn.

Economics, plus the Teacher Education concentration. This would be possible by carefully planning your schedule so that upon graduation (with the exception of student teaching, which could be done after graduation), you would be certified by the College to teach in the business area on the second level. Therefore, with your subject matter degree plus the education certification, you would have an advantage since business is now becoming very much interested in graduates with a teaching background to help set up and conduct in-house seminars.

The Teacher Education Department has two programs in business: Social Business (without shorthand) and Secretarial and Office Education (with shorthand) and is accredited by NASDTEC, which automatically certifies Bryant teacher-education majors to teach in 28 states and the Panama Canal Zone. Bryant College is proud of the excellent placement record of the excellent placement record of its Teacher Education graduates who are employed throughout the country.

If you would like to consider scheduling two concentrations, see Mr. George Tarapata or Mr. Kenneth McKenzie, Academic Counselors in the Registrar's Office.

What makes Tech Hifi the best place to buy stereo?

Appliance stores and department stores are not the best places to buy quality stereo. You'll do much better at a stereo store.

The problem is, which stereo store? You're about to read why over 2 million music lovers have decided to buy from Tech Hifi.

It's OK to pick our brains. (We know our stereo).

The salespeople at Tech Hifi know what they're talking about. They work at Tech because they love stereo, not because they love selling.

Our people keep up with all the latest equipment, and can tell you the differences among the leading brands.

You get to play at Tech Hifi, not just look.

Some stereo stores have signs all over that tell you "Don't Touch The Merchandise".

At Tech Hifi our signs say "Come Play." We encourage you to spin knobs, push buttons, toss switches, and try out any of the components in our soundroom.

If you take enough time to play in a Tech Hifi soundroom, you'll get a good idea of which equipment sounds best in your price range.

This $189 system delivers good sound at a low price. The receiver is a TDC 1500 with T-Lock tuning that eliminates FM drift. The loudspeakers are compact, wide-range Studio Design 16's and the turntable is a multiple-play Collaro 1251 with a Philips cartridge.

The buying power of the 65 Tech Hifi stores.

The reason why no store has better prices than Tech Hifi is no dealer buys quality components in such a huge volume as the 65 Tech Hifi stores.

You'll find our prices are as good as anybody's, and often better on some brands.

You might expect to pay extra at Tech for all the extra things we offer. But you won't.

At Tech Hifi we back what you buy.

When you make any big investment like quality hifi, make sure you're getting sound guarantees.

Tech Hifi gives you guarantees most stores don't. And we'll give them to you in writing, right on your sales slip.

Our guarantees include a 7-day moneyback guarantee (no questions asked).

30-day price guarantee, 60-day defective exchange, 3-month full-credit swap (for any reason), and a 1-year loudspeaker trial.

Our guarantees are backed by the Tech Hifi Service Centers. If the equipment you buy from us ever needs service, we have trained professionals who will make things right. Fast.

Our back-to-school sale

This is a good time to buy at Tech Hifi, because we're having our annual back-to-school sale.

You'll find complete systems on sale right now for as little as $189, and lots of name-brand turntables, receivers, loudspeakers, and cassette decks are on sale as individual components.

Come in this week and listen to what your money can buy at Tech Hifi.

The best place to buy stereo.

SOME COLLEGE COURSES ARE MORE EXCITING THAN OTHERS.

How many college courses teach you how to shoot the rapids? Or rappel a cliff? Or find your way out of a forest with nothing but a map and compass to guide you?

At least one does—Army ROTC.

And you could find yourself doing any one of a number of exciting adventure training activities like these in the Army ROTC program.

Activities that develop your stamina. And your self-confidence.

But adventure training isn't the only way you develop. You'll also learn the basics of leadership and management by attending ROTC classes, along with the subjects in your major.

And you'll be excited about two other benefits Army ROTC offers. Financial assistance. Up to $1,000 a year for your last two years of Army ROTC. And the opportunity to graduate with both a degree and a commission in today's Army—including the Army Reserve and Army National Guard.
